Action Verbs

Action verbs* are words that show one of the characters doing something. Most stories are full of action words. Here are a few action verbs in the book Joshua and the Biggest Fish: pounded, stared, frowned. As you read through your book, list some action words you find.

*Other verbs, like was, is, or has, are called being verbs.

Action words I found:

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

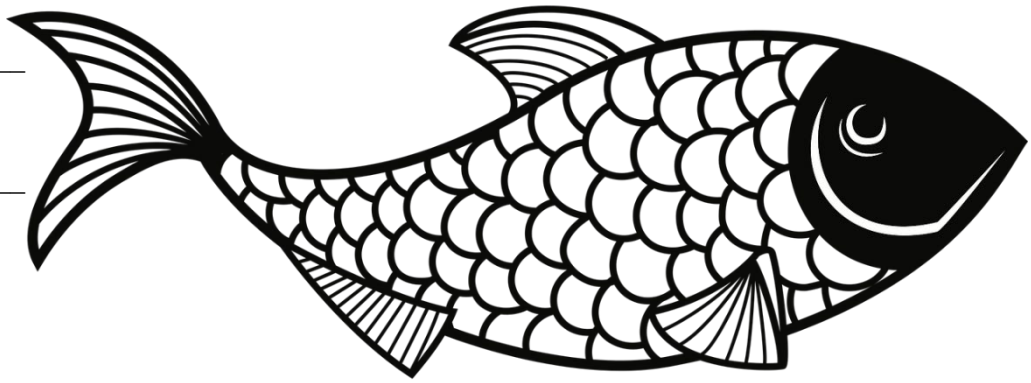
_____

_____

_____

_____

Choose one of the verbs you found in your book and draw a picture to illustrate it.



Joshua and the Biggest Fish was written by Kaylee Morrison and Nancy Smith. It was illustrated by Dorothy Shaw. See if this book is on the shelves at your library. ISBN#978-0-9983271-6-7