

COMPARE AND CONTRAST

In the story Kate's Ocean, Kate moves from the seaside to a farm on the prairie. She finds the two places are quite different. Write down what you might see, smell, taste, hear, and touch if you visited these two habitats.

Ocean/beach	Prairie
sand
	grass

Kate's Ocean, by Anola Pickett

ISBN 978-1-7337170-7-6

As the plane swooped high into the sky, Kate waved goodbye to the ocean. She was going to live with her grandparents in Kansas. And there was no ocean in Kansas.

Through the cold winter, Kate missed collecting seastones and watching the sea gulls. But when spring arrived on Grandpa's farm and he planted seeds in his garden, Kate had an idea.

To purchase the book, visit www.doodleandpeck.com.